KAISER MAY ABANDON SUBMARINE POLICY

NO GOLD IN WORLD
FOR CIRCULATION

Explanation of the Most Sensational Advance in Silver in Past Decade

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—Bar silver is quoted at 71 3/8, the highest almost in a decade. The withdrawal of gold as a medium of circulation from practically all markets of the world except this country accounts almost fully for the sensational advance in silver. Incidentally the Mexican disturbances served to materially curtail the supply.

This indicates an advance of nearly 26 cents, when compared with the lowest price of some eighteen months ago. According to the firm of Moccatta & Goldsmith, silver specialists in London, the principal cause of the remarkable upward movements "appears to be the firmness of the exchange in Shanghai, where there has recently been a shipment of £550,000 to Bombay. Since the announcement of the shipment, China banks have bought in London, and this, in addition to the continued requirements for coinage, both here and on the continent, has caused much keener competition than we have had for some time. As usual on a rising market, America has been much less willing to sell, and offerings have been comparatively small. So long as these conditions last, we can hardly look for any setback, and even higher prices may be expected."

Another London report puts stress on the fact that all the European mints are buying silver in liberal amounts; it also informs us that there's a great demand for silver coins among the millions of soldiers. It's an interesting and unique situation, particularly when some thought is bestowed upon the rapidly growing totals of national debts and banknote circulation in all the warring nations. The outstanding interest-bearing indebtedness of England and Germany alone now stands at $28,000,000,000, against $11,000,000,000 on August 1, 1914.

SIGNIFICANCE GIVEN TO GERARD'S VISIT

Audience With Emperor Hailed as a Precursor of a Better Understanding

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Dispatches received by the German embassy from Berlin indicate that Germany will attempt to meet the American demands for immediate abandonment of the present practices of submarines. The visit of Ambassador Gerard to the kaiser is the topic of chief interest in official and diplomatic circles.

The invitation to visit the kaiser in his field headquarters is regarded as a forerunner of an amicable settlement of the differences between the two countries. Not since the declaration of hostilities has such signal distinction been extended any member of the diplomatic corps and there is no disguising the belief that the simple circumstance of the visit is a good omen of the ultimate intention of the government to cultivate more cordial relations with the United States.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Secretary Lansing has announced that Ambassador Gerard on calling a reference to his invitation to visit the kaiser at headquarters, declared he did not know the purpose of the conference. The emperor invited Mr. Gerard to visit him at the front without explaining the reason.

About 124 men are missing. The vessel cost about $5,000,000.

This is the eleventh British battleship lost since the war. It is officially announced that a German submarine was sunk off the east coast. Eighteen men were captured.

POLITICAL POWER OF BIG BUSINESS
MAY BE ENHANCED BY WISE PUBLICITY

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—The latent political power of big business is enormous and if wisely organized it would be irresistible, with no political party powerful enough to succeed against it, Otto H. Kahn, banker, declared in an address at the annual dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers' association here last night. "Business is doing too much kicking and not enough fighting," he said, and should become militant, not to obtain special privileges but, through a properly constituted organization, to aid and foster legislative and administrative powers.

Mr. Kahn urged that finance, "instead of avoiding publicity in all of its aspects should welcome it and seek it," and declared that finance "should omit no word or deed to place itself in the right light before the people."

Mr. Kahn discussed "High Finance."

He asserted that there exists in the United States, alone among the nations, "a widespread attitude of suspicion toward the financial community and especially toward the financial activities which focus in New York; the country's financial capital." The primary cause of this, he believed, was a lack of appreciation of what finance stands for.

"Finance does not mean speculation," he said, "although speculation when it does not degenerate into mere gambling has a proper and legitimate place in the scheme of things economic." Finance most emphatically does not mean fleecing the public, nor fattening parasitically off the industry and commerce of the country. "No combination (of finance) exists here remotely approaching the monopolistic control exercised by several of the so-called cartels and syndicates of Europe."

TEMPORARY BRIDGE
NEEDED AT CURRANT

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS SHOULD LOOK AFTER REPAIRS TO THE ELY ROAD

Travelers coming from Salt Lake and Ely report the main road between the two camps to be in excellent shape with the exception of in the vicinity of Currant Creek where a detour is made necessary and travelers put to considerable expense and trouble. Since the bridge was washed out by the spring floods nothing has been done to enable motorists or teamsters to cross the deep gully remaining where the old bridge stood. Automobiles have to go around the obstruction losing between three and four miles and taking a chance of getting mired. In several instances teams have had to be engaged to pull machines out of the mud.

The commissioners of Nye county say they have awarded a contract for a steel bridge at this point but, at the rate of progress, the structure will not be installed before the end of the year. In the meantime a temporary bridge should be thrown in as it would not cost much. There is plenty of timber and lumber from the old bridge that could be used for the purpose. The contrast between the roads in Nye county and White Pine calls forth considerable criticism. In White Pine there is a regular road gang that maintains the road in perfect condition looking after filling and smoothing out rough places while in Nye county nothing is done.

GAIN IN EXTRACTION ON WHITE CAPS ORE

SAVING IS NOW OVER 90 PER CENT ACCORDING TO RELIABLE ADVICES

During the past week the management of the White Caps has been rewarded with material gains in extraction that now runs the saving up to a fraction over 90 per cent with a still lower consumption of cyanide. This is in line with the belief expressed recently when it was stated that the ore had become amenable to roasting before the cyanide treatment and that even better results were expected. This prediction has been fulfilled and every day discloses evidence that the saving will run better as the process is adjusted to the chemical constituents.

At the mine the vein has been cut in the shaft at 310 feet and in a few days drifts will be started both east and west. The east drift is expected to encounter the ore shoot in a distance of 120 feet and the west drift is expected to cut the shaft ore at the same distance.
